Wine Tasting Tours

Monferrato is one of the most famous Italian wine regions, especially as regards red wines and sparkling wines. The viticulture is dominant in the whole territory, characterized by the widespread dissemination of indigenous varieties and the resulting variety of DOC and DOCG wines. In this scenario, the Lands of Gavi occupy an important position, because they produce the white wine Gavi, DOCG since 1998. This denomination of 100% Cortese grapes is produced only in 11 small towns in the area.

As for the wine production in the area of Ovada and Asti, one must remember Cortese Alto Monferrato DOC , Barbera del Monferrato DOC, Dolcetto d' Ovada DOC , Barbera d' Asti DOC and Grignolino d ' Asti DOC.

Piemonte Moscato DOC Wine , Piemonte DOC Chardonnay , Piemonte Pinot Noir DOC, Brachetto d'Acqui DOC and DOCG Asti are produced at Acqui Terme and its surroundings.

Gavi and Novi represent the nodal centers of the territory "dedicated" to the vines of the wine that, since 1659, was known as "courteous" ("corteisa" in the local dialect). This wine achieved the denomination DOC "Gavi" (or Cortese di Gavi) in 1974 and recently it obtained the DOCG.

Around the wine they build the paths of Taste, to discover the local products and flavors and ancient knowledge that still live in the area and which give rise to a rich and genuine cuisine, able to offer unique sensations and unmistakable.

The hills of the Langhe and Roero, in the province of Cuneo, is a land of wines, known as the home of quality.

Out of a total of 325 Doc wines produced in Italy, Piedmont contributes 44 (equivalent to 13.5 %). One of the richness and specificity of enology of this land is to offer both noble, powerful aged red wines, and more ready to drink wines to complement your meal daily, even white fragrant.

The wines of the Langhe, thanks to their strong personality and character, led the Langhe area to establish itself in the world among wine producers. Among its strengths, balance between soil and climate which defines the terroir, the presence of native vines that are expressed in a variety of wines and human intervention that turns with deep passion and intelligence the fruits of the earth.

The DOC and DOCG wines produced in these hills are : Barolo, Barbaresco, Roero , Dogliani , Barbera d'Alba, Nebbiolo d'Alba, Dolcetto d'Alba, Dolcetto di Diano , Dolcetto di Dogliani, Dolcetto delle Langhe Monregalesi, Langhe, Verduno Pelaverga.
